Carolingian (Tours school, VIIIth century)

The image displays ten sets of horizontal lines for handwriting practice. Each set is composed of four lines: a top line, a middle line, a baseline, and a descender line. A central purple line is positioned between the middle and baseline. Each set of lines is preceded by a small square marker on the left margin, serving as a starting point for writing. The sets are arranged vertically, providing a template for practicing the Carolingian script.
